

Rhoel Z. Mabazza
Assistant General Manager, Corporate Support Group
National Development Company

A lawyer by profession, Rhoel previously worked with Fortun Narvasa and Salazar Law Firm, and the Asset Privatization Trust (now Privatization Management Office) as a Trust Attorney. He started his career with NDC in 2002 as an Attorney V prior to being designated as the Manager for Legal Department in 2003. In 2019, he was appointed as Assistant General Manager for Corporate Support Group. As such, he heads NDC's Finance, Administrative, Human Resources, and Legal Departments. He also concurrently supervises NDC's Asset Management Group. Aside from being a member of NDC's Management Team, he has been serving as Corporate Secretary of the NDC Board of Directors since 2003.

Rhoel's experience carries with him several years of practice in legal management, privatization of government corporations, finance, project investment, public-private partnerships, leveraging company's assets, and organizational restructuring.

He acted as a major negotiator for contracts involving leases, settlement of receivables and obligations, investments, and joint venture transactions. He was also involved in NDC's various bond flotation, particularly in the execution of Executive Orders necessary for these bond issuances. He was likewise part of the NDC team in the joint venture project that eventually became the first infrastructure link-road project under the Public Private Partnership (PPP) Framework.

Rhoel earned his Juris Doctor and undergraduate degree of AB-Interdisciplinary Studies from the Ateneo de Manila University.
